

SABRE 1971

Dear Sugar,

What can I say to complete this year? Judy Bonneau
It's hard to say goodbye to all of our past experiences but we have to. I have enjoyed every minute of the day with you and I know this has been a prosperous year for us because of our relationship. As the days linger on we got to know each other better than I ever thought we would. Writing letters very right to each other and going out on weekends right have just been a fraction. The real and most important reason is that I love you very, very much. This school year wouldn't have seemed very good without your complete happiness you've shared with me. It's easier to write to you because I can share my thoughts and ideas openly with you. "My God, But you're lovely." I have got to thank you for helping me when I had troubles with charing and for putting up for so much I've given you. It takes a lot to do this but I know you are so true. Things just couldn't have happened without your parents, too. Although we got in trouble a few times and both shared our tears like our happiness it doesn't come close to what our strong relationship. Dates, Dances, parties, Florida, Tenn. and other we have shared and will continue to share as long as we both live. I just can't express my feelings toward you right now because paper just can't hold happiness like ~~gazing~~ gazing into each others eyes, kissing or holding you. Yes, Baby, time have changed but for our sake, I guess it's luck that it has but as far as I'm concerned, I have the best luck, you. April 28, 1940-71 will be birthdays I shall never forget. I thought my 16th birthday was great but my 17th was everything out of it. All I can say is your's will be the best one you have ever had because I have really got some special things for you. This kinda reminds me of love story but ours is a much happier one because you aren't dying. But the only sad part is I just can't wait that five and 1/2 years because I want you so bad. I really mean this and I know you feel the same but our time will come. You are my world and I won't let anything happen to you. Even though we fight, I feel it's for our own good. Couples need to fight every now and then but I still hate it. I know I start around 99% of the fights because of my temper but you know, I still trying. Next year is the big one. We will be serious and will then take the giant step to success. Now whether we make it or not will be something else. I want you to be right there at my side so we can go through this together. Ok. Another thing I would like to say thanks for was the help in my Bookkeeping class. Thanks to you & Louis for passing me.

Even though your friendship went down with a few fakes this year I stood there trying for you. You wouldn't have to be homecoming queen or anything like that because you know in my eyes -- you are a great queen. Remember sugar, true friends wouldn't have turned against you like that but I guess they wanted you to find out the hard way. Don't ever worry but because I'll always be there to help you. I plan someday to be married to you so I want our hard work and fighting to stop while we are in our prime of life. We can't sweat the small stuff as I have heard but I know it has been sweated many a day. Don't worry about me changing because if I do it will be for the better for us, just think we've only just begun to live with each other. You have been embarrassed when I have seen you with wet hair or rollers in there but believe me Sugar, I love you regardless of weather you are clean or dirty, wet or dry or even with or without make up on because one doesn't love these things; it's the person underneath all of this whom he loves.
I'm glad I have seen you like that because I think you still look great, this is only a portion of what has happened through this year and who knows what will happen next year. All I pray is that we live happy together and to love each other like we are now. What can you say to a Judy Bonnesage who has loved and given me love, who has cherished me as if I were gold and who has cared and respected me as if I were a king -- I love you Judy and I'll always love and respect with all I can give. Again may our years be as prosperous as the tender moments we have shared with each other this year.

Love you,
Dawn.

P.S. Thank you for all you have done. I appreciate everything you do + more for me.

"To everything there is a season,
And a time to every purpose under the heaven.
A time to be born, and a time to die,
A time to plant, and a time to pluck up that which is planted;
A time to kill, and a time to heal;
A time to break down, and a time to build up;
A time to weep, and a time to laugh;
A time to mourn, and a time to dance; . . .
A time to get, a time to lose;
A time to keep, and a time to cast away;
A time to rend, and a time to sew;
A time to keep silence, and a time to speak;
A time to love, and a time to hate;
A time of war, and a time of peace."

A Time For Spirit . . .

The drive inside you that made you want to win . . . to excel . . . to just plain be better . . . the feeling inside you that you could be beaten by no one . . . the indescribable pride after victory . . . and even after defeat . . . the same strong Rebel pride lingered because you knew that all efforts were made, and you were proudly represented.

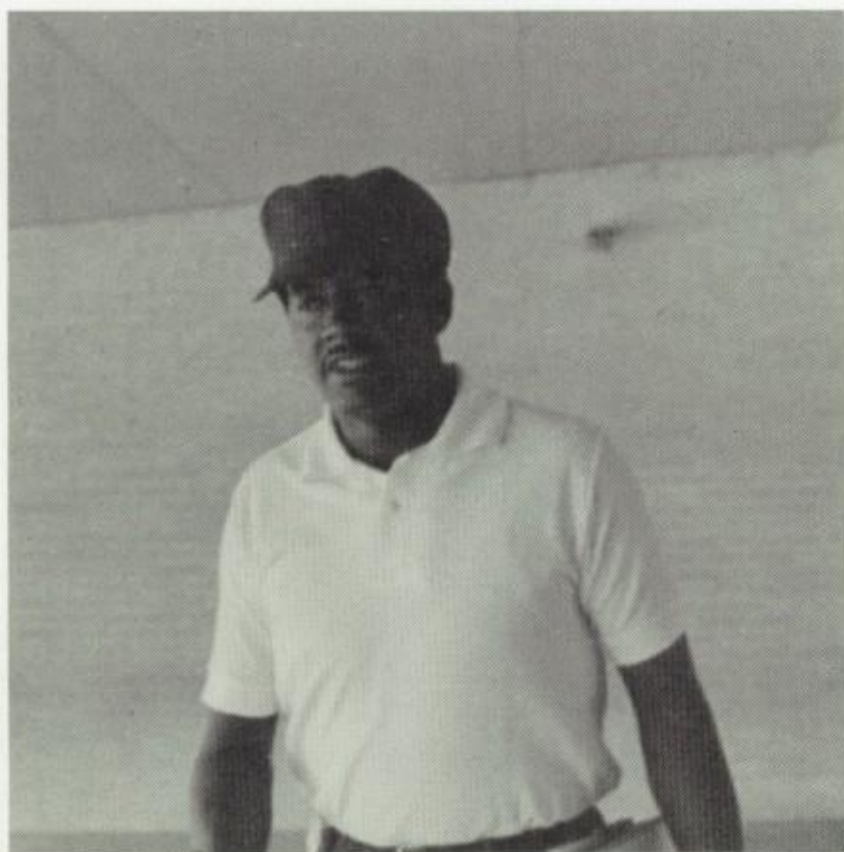

A Time For Friendship . . .

A smile in the hall from a friend . . . an inside joke shared with friends . . . someone to listen to your troubles and problems . . . the only people you knew you could depend upon . . . without friends no one would choose to live, even if he had all other things.

A Time For Relaxation . . .

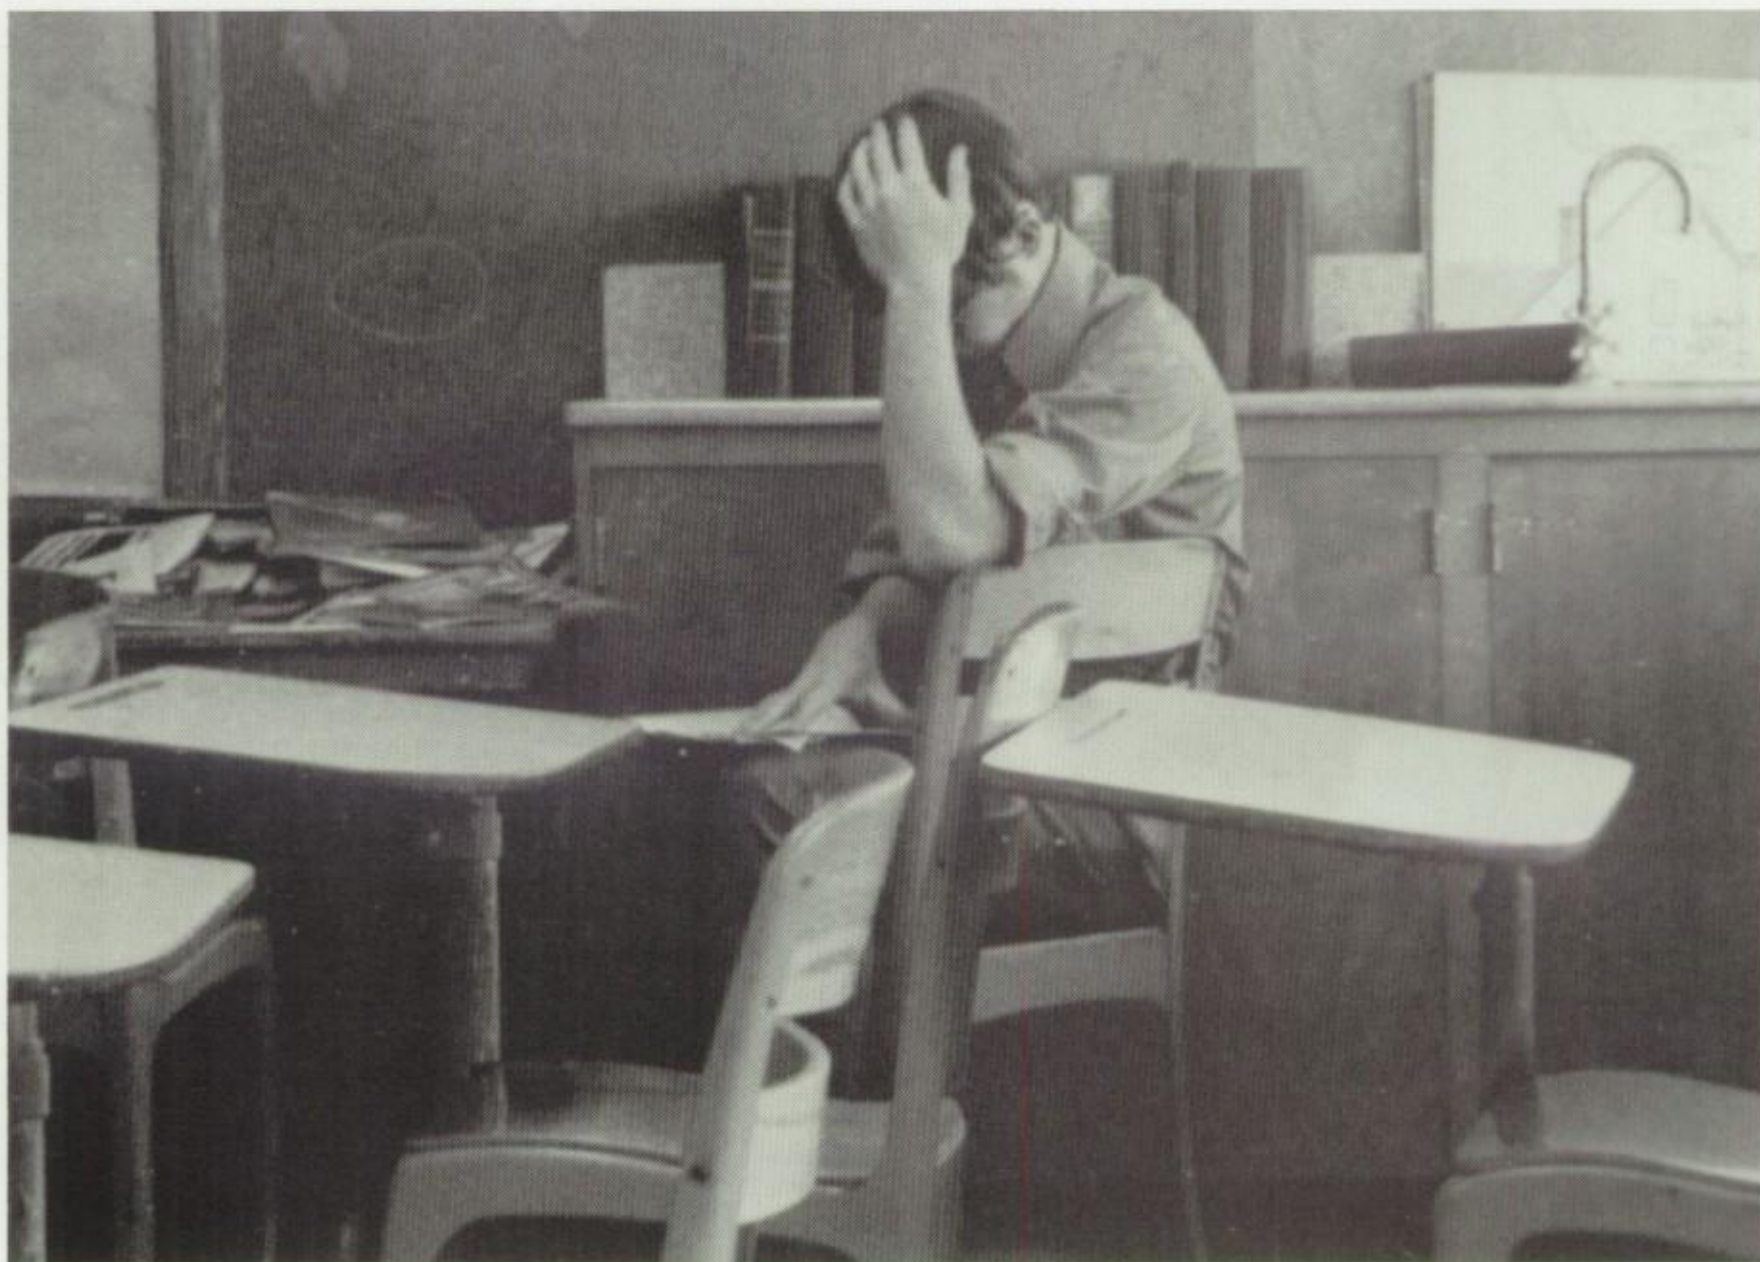

A quick nap in study hall . . . comfortably waited for the bus . . . took it easy on a good strong tree . . . rested on a bench before going back to practice . . . took a break from work, students, faculty and maintenance crew.

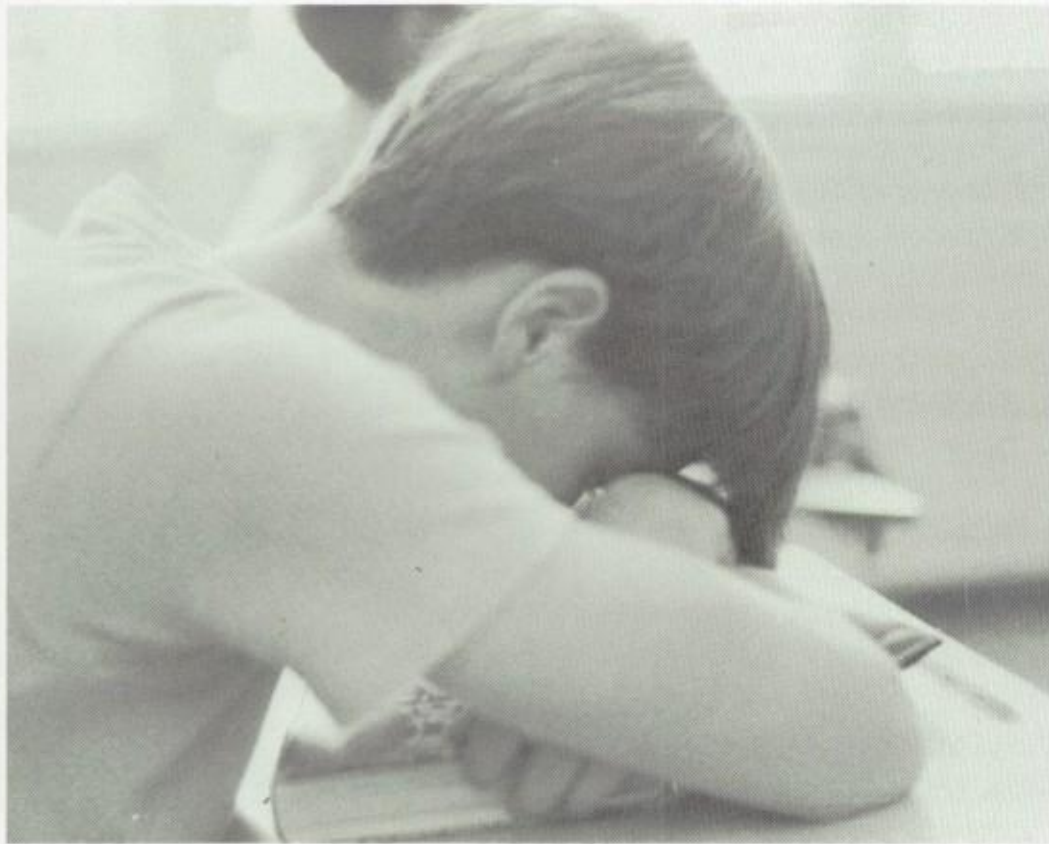

A Time For Defeat . . .

A state of inability to perform a normal function adequately . . . failed a test . . . were late to class . . . forgot your thirty cents for lunch . . . didn't do your homework . . . missed the bus . . . Nobody's perfect, so we must all learn to accept the many defeats we face each day.

The Rebels are Hot. An early Victory gave us cause to believe that we have something different this year. Determination was never stronger; spirit was never greater.

Doctor Smith and Lester at work . . . again.

Injury took its toll. The Rebel ranks were badly weakened, but determined replacements worked hard to make up for the losses.

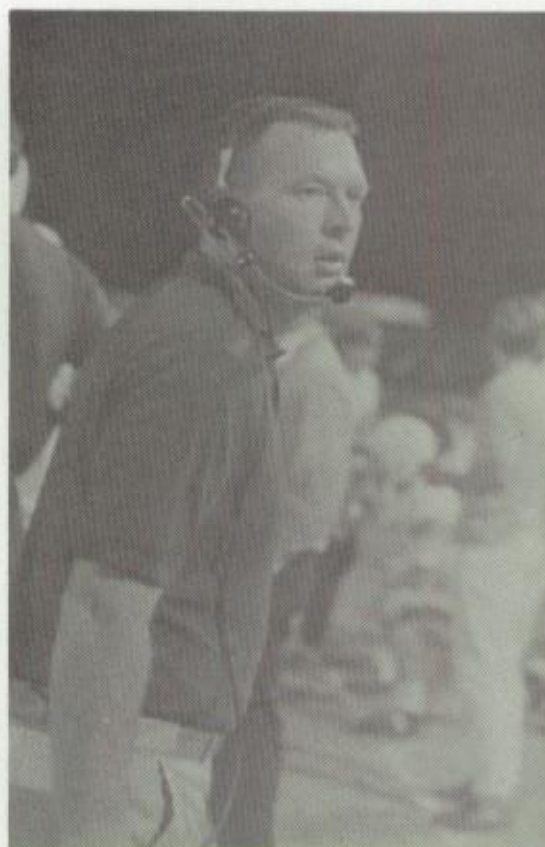

The year of the knee injury.

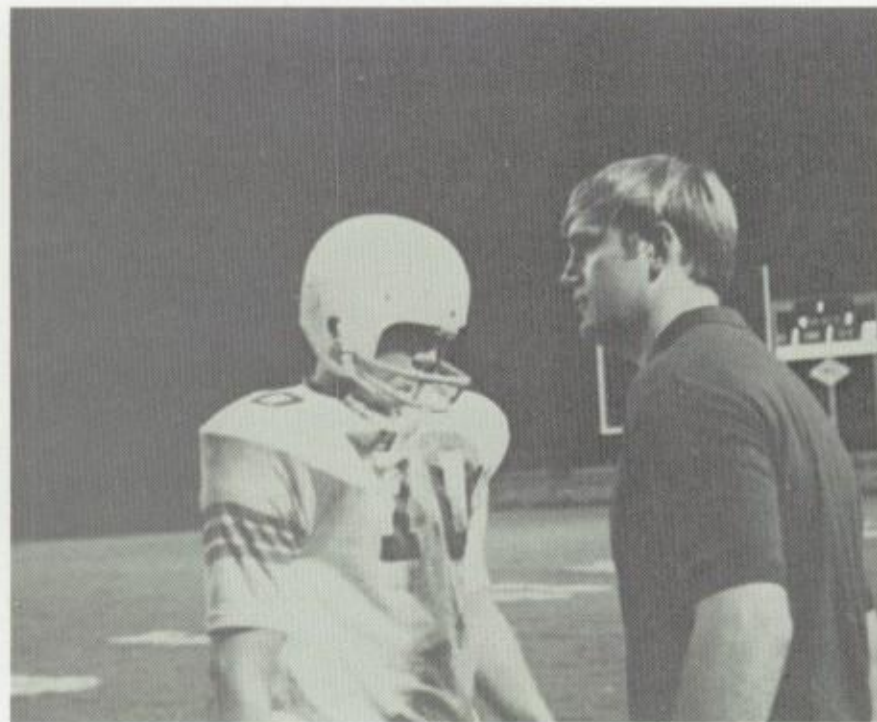

The Rebs hard won glory was short lived. A series of three straight losses for the Rebels dampened everyone's spirit somewhat, but the Rebels fought on.

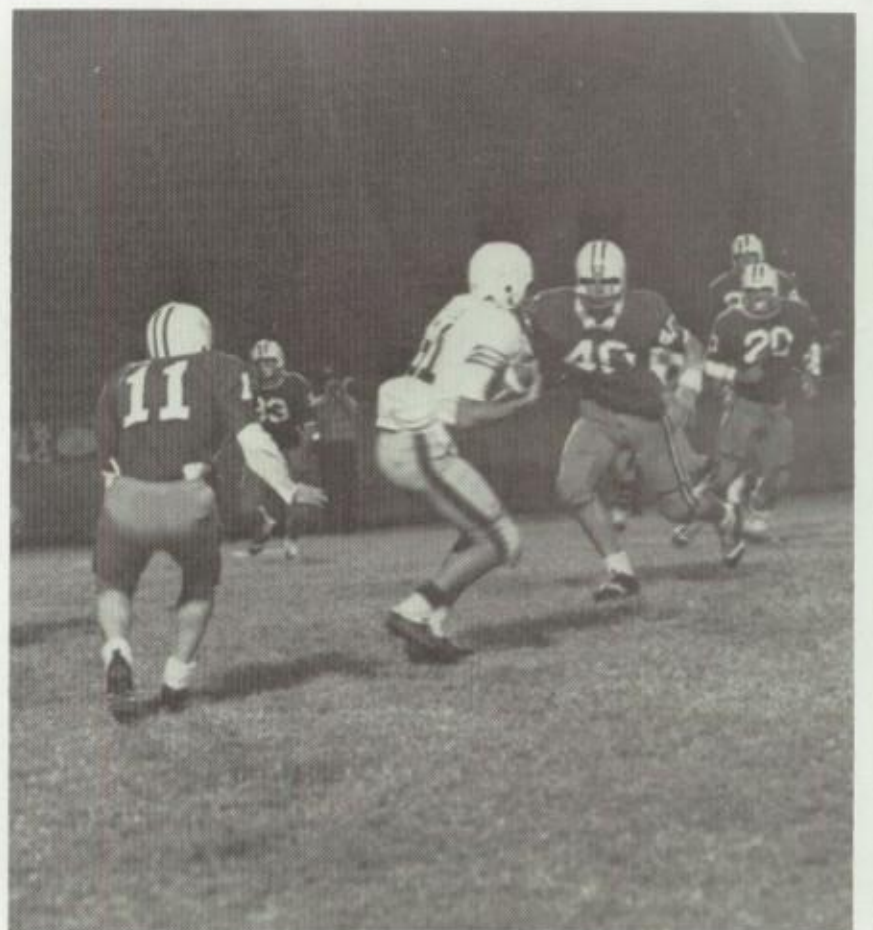

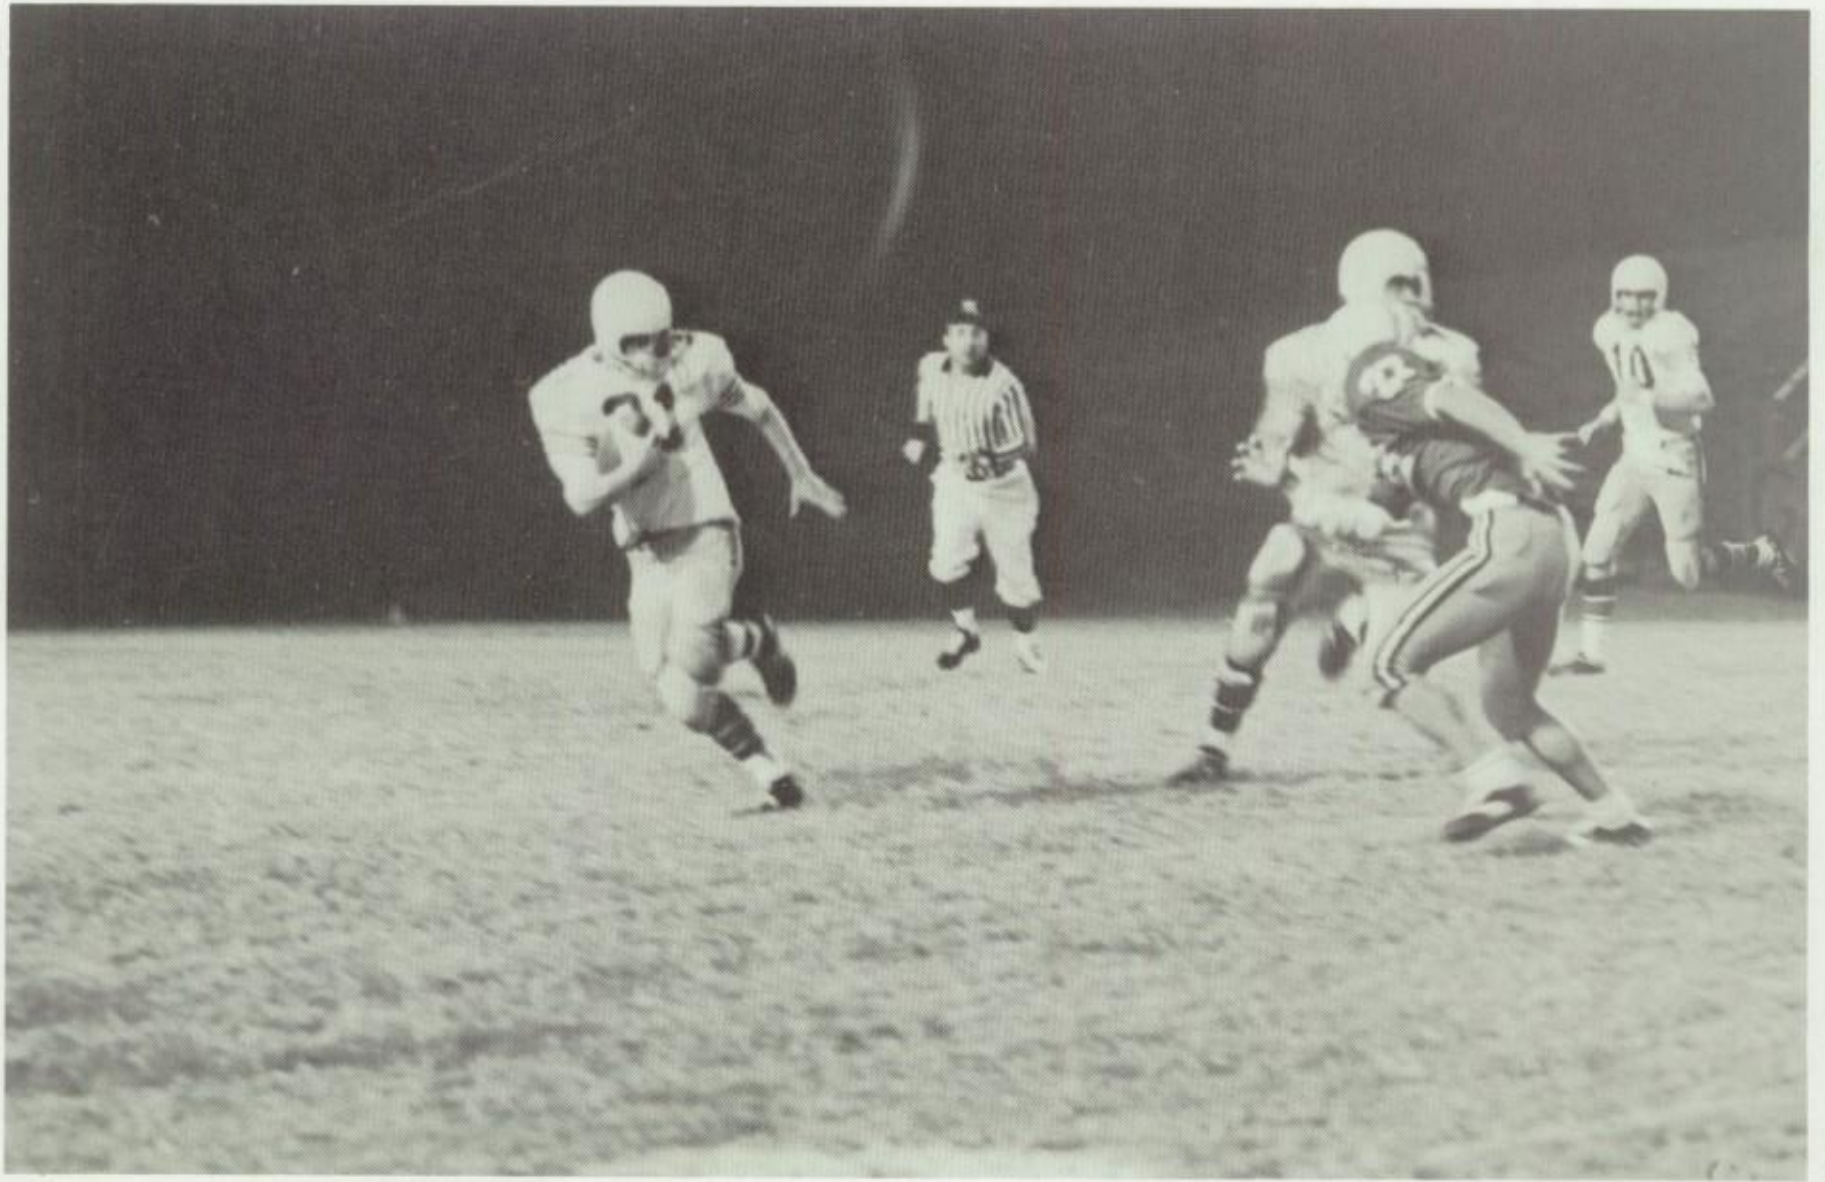

An intregal part of the team, our coaches could always be found on the field, in the dressing rooms, with the Rebels. They cared; probably more than the most ardent fans because in a very real way, the coaches feel responsible for our Rebel Team.

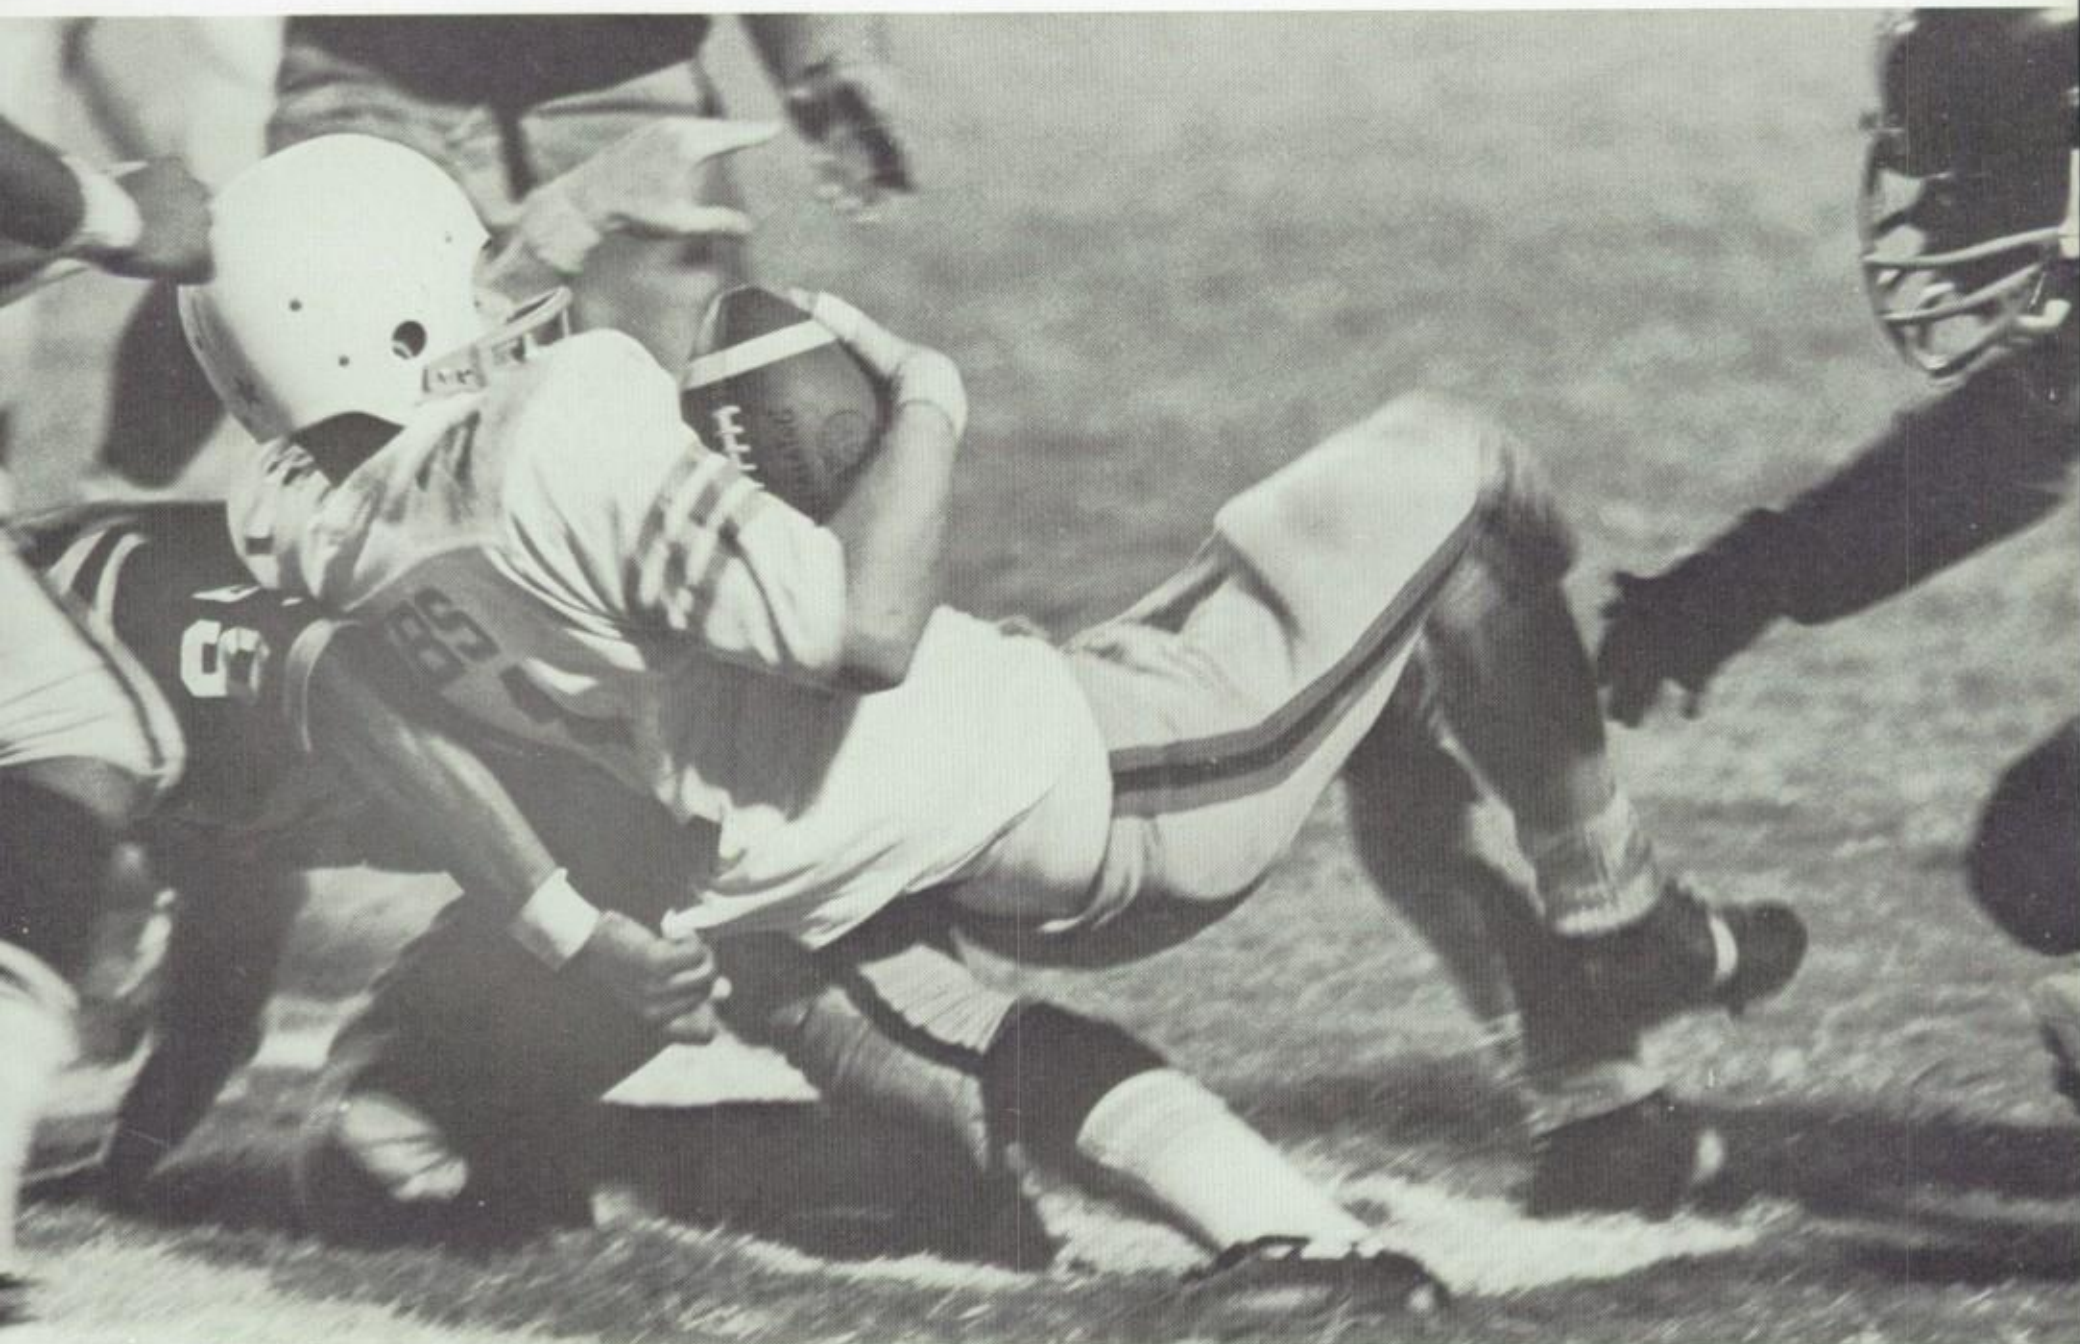

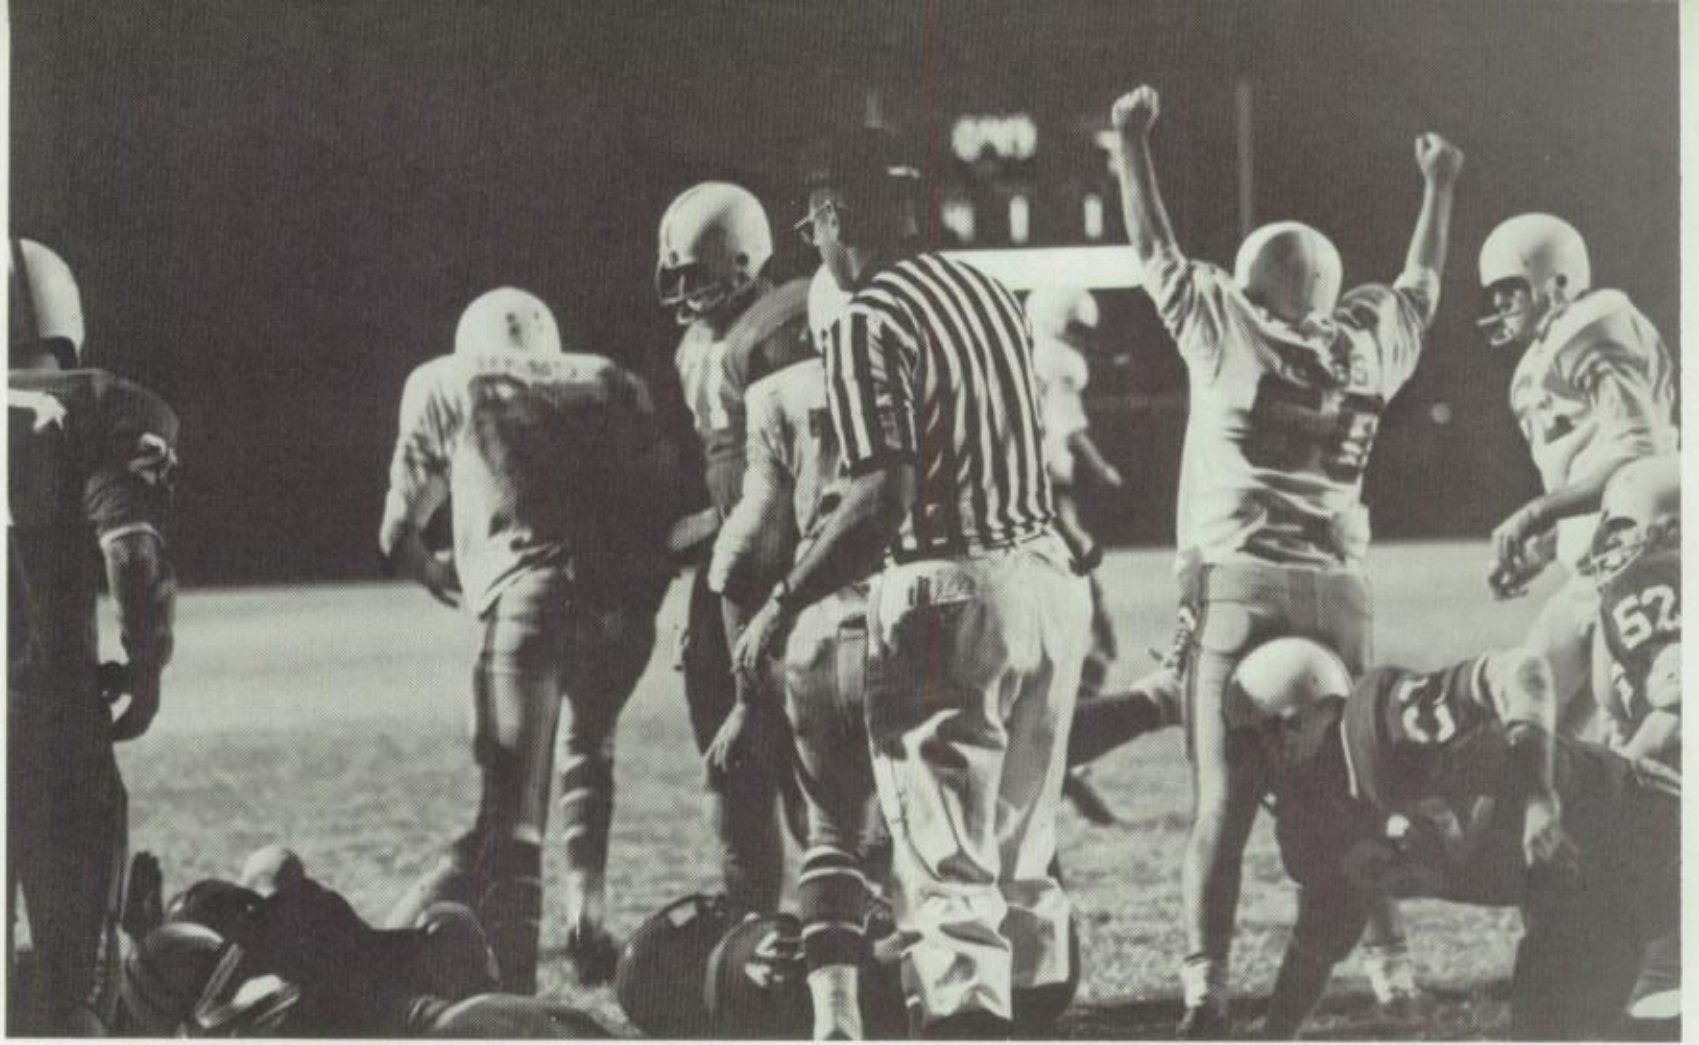

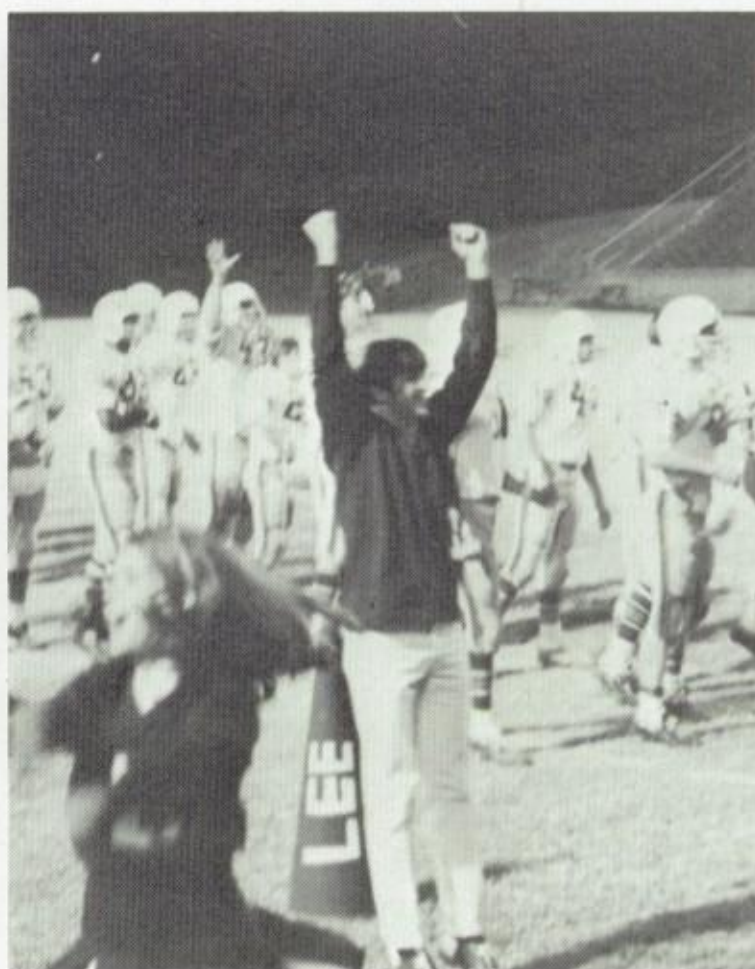

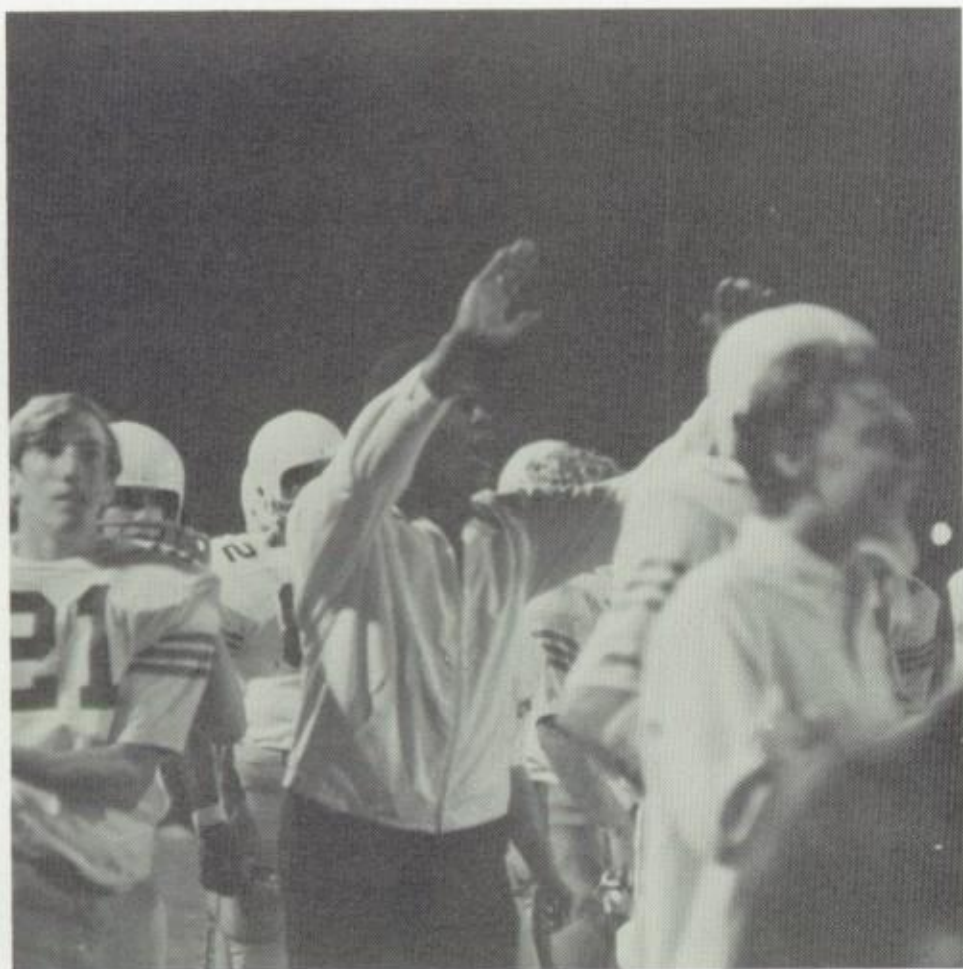

The Rebels fight on . . .

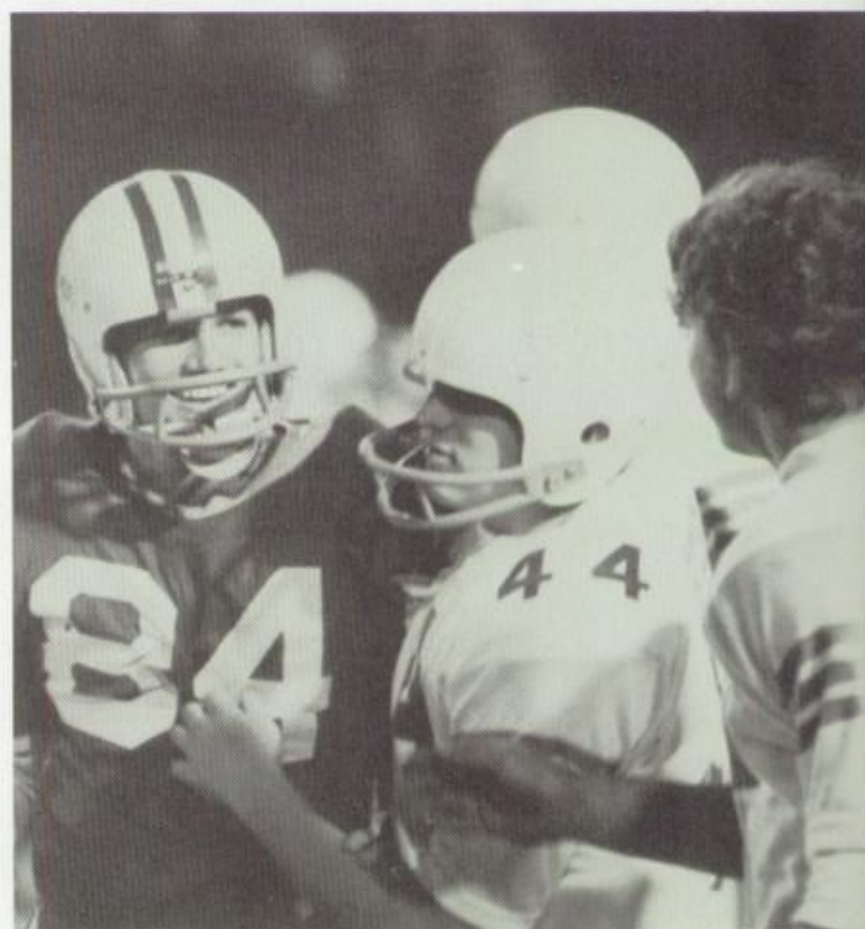

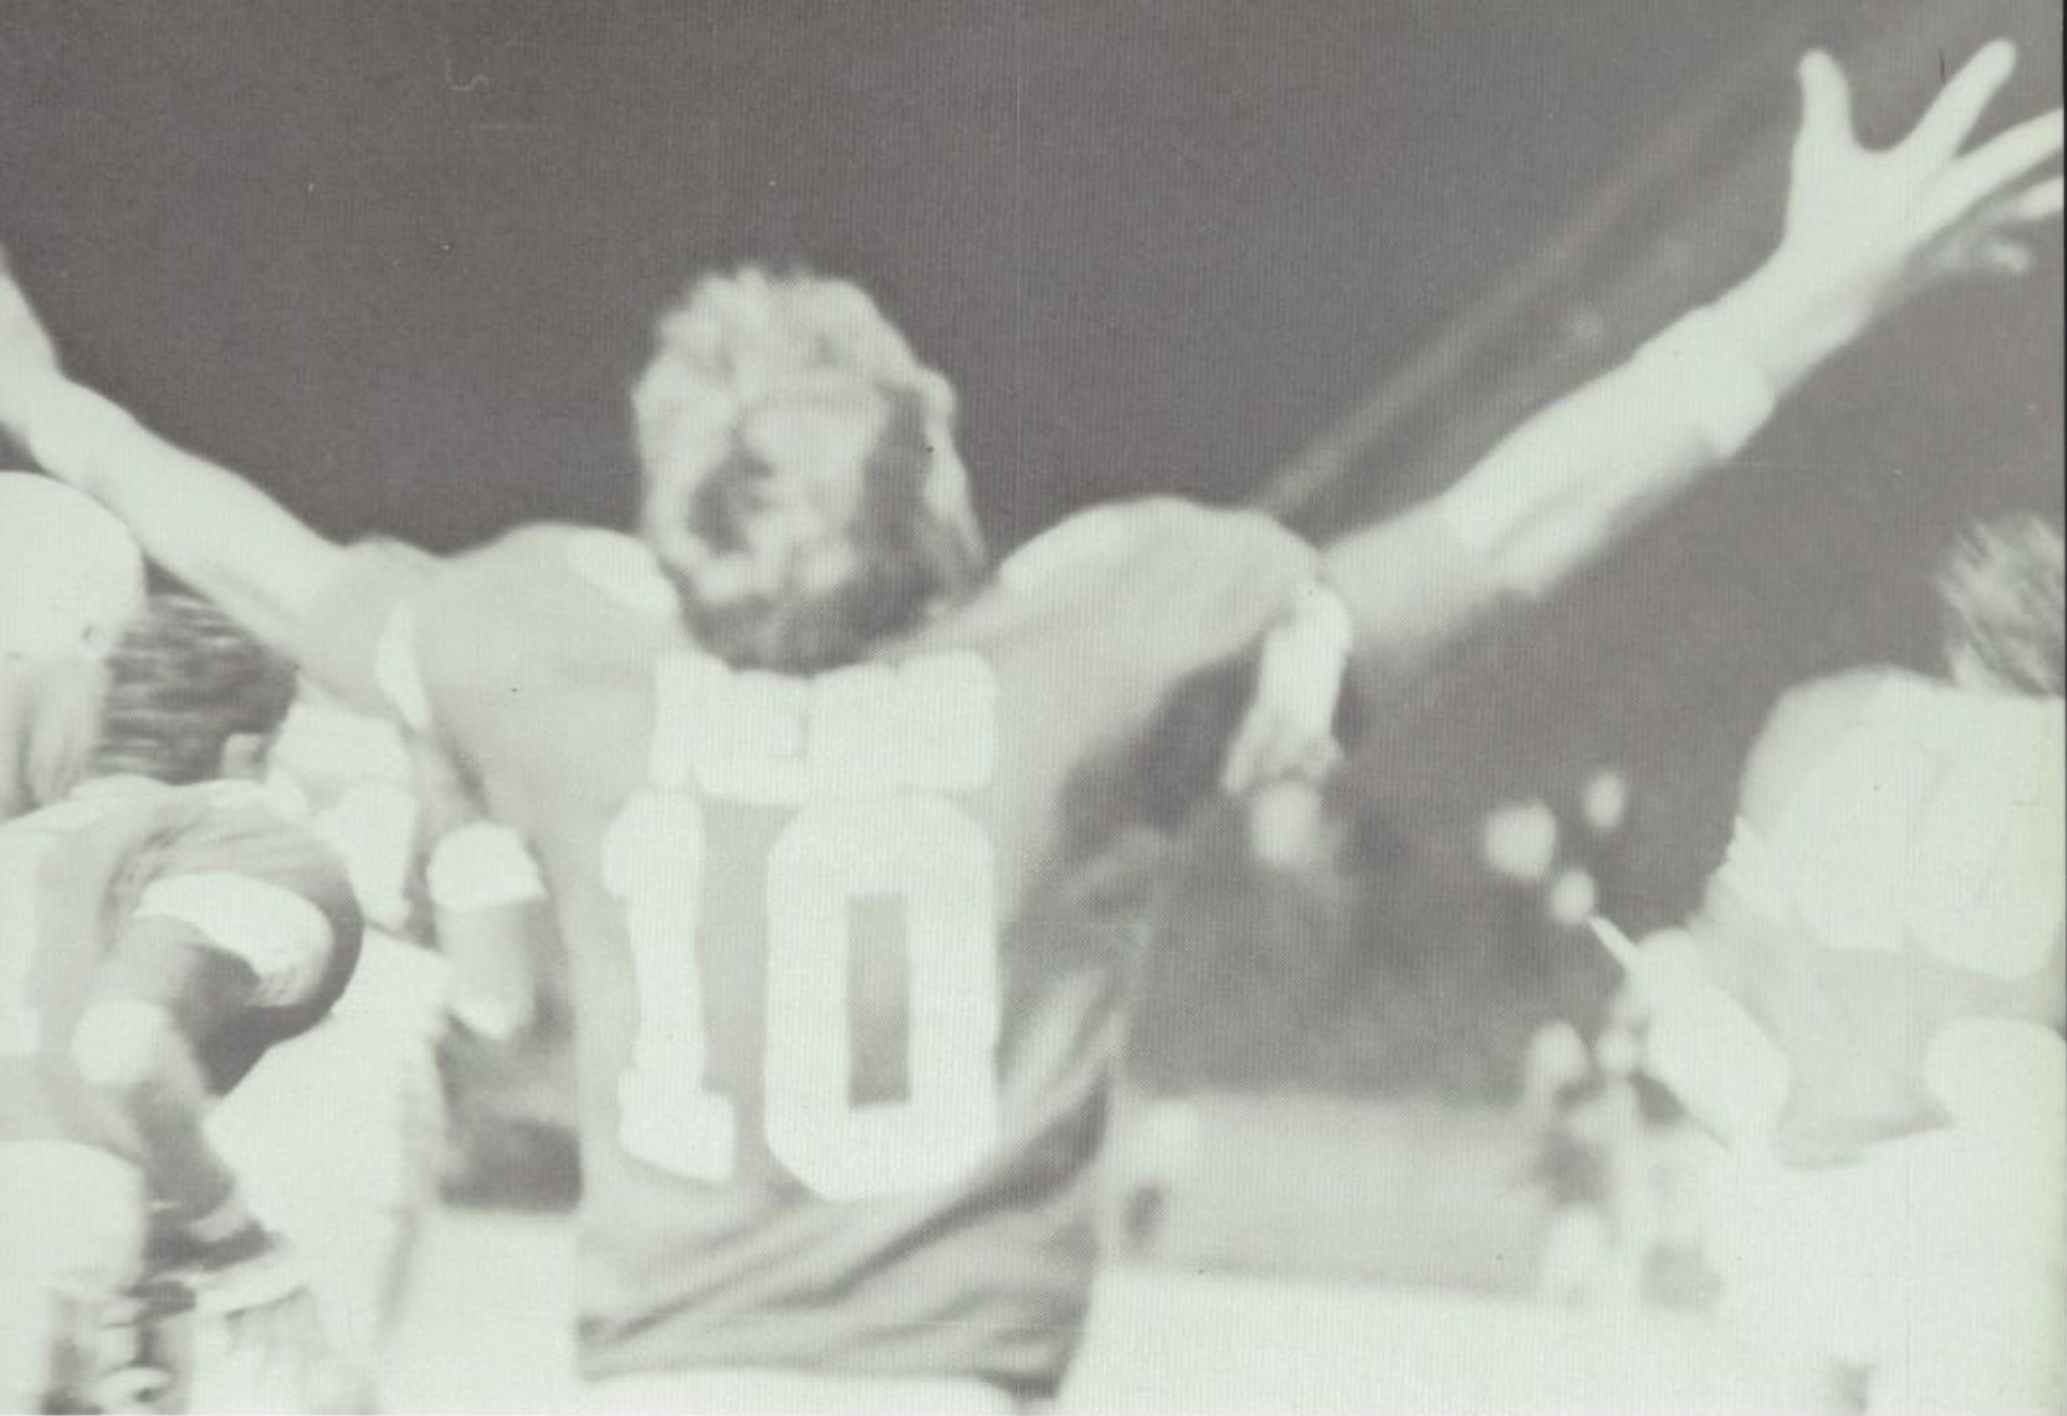

After a few sporadic losses, the Rebels emerged victorious for the 4th time and beat Catholic High 6 to 0. Jubilant players, cheerleaders, boosters and fans were everywhere. Despite many obstacles, the mighty Rebels made a strong important comeback. A fine note to end the season.

Quite a season . . . moments of ecstasy . . . seconds in hell . . . anger . . . frustration . . . jubilation . . . defeat . . . victory . . . life.

Our Lee High team was expected to be really strong this year. With returning stars Martin Schott and Joe Bartus along with a number of other talented seniors, juniors, and sophomores, Lee's pre-season hopes were up. The first four games, however, dashed these hopes because we were beaten. After this grim start, the Rebels came back with more determination than ever and finally broke into the victory column.

The remainder of the season was, to say the least, unpredictable. Many of our games were won or lost in the closing seconds of each game. Toward the latter part of the season, the Rebels finally put in together and won 5 out of their last 7 games. This was an amazing comeback for a team that started out so slowly.

Our Rebel team was a victim of misfortune this year as they lost 9 games by 2 points or fewer. Each game went right down to the wire, but Lee High always managed to come up on the short end. The biggest blow was the loss, in overtime, to broadmoor. This, our final game, capped a season of thrilling finishes and unpredictable scores.

Lee High fans saw several changes this year in prep basketball. Most noticeable were a new district with new teams, stall ball tactics, and only one tournament. The new teams kept the district too busy to fool with tournaments.

Although in previous years the basketball team has been referred to as Wicker's Wonders, after this year the term Bobby's Baldies was heard. There was good reason for this as most of the ballplayers were well shaved before being allowed to play. Their hair, or rather lack of it, became the butt of many jokes during the school year.

Wrestling

A competitive interscholastic wrestling program is the only sport where the "little man" can compete with someone his own size.

Wrestling prepares a boy to fight the game of life. He is on his own in a match; no one can substitute; no time outs are possible. When he wins, he must show quiet pride and modesty; when he loses, the responsibility is his. The opportunities for self-realization are present in wrestling.

The Lee High wrestling team completed its second year of varsity competition this year under the guidance of coach Bill Bofinger. Lee made great strides from last year's team (8-6) to a very respectable 18-5 this season. The Rebels were 14-1 in city competition losing only its first match of the season to Glen Oaks. The grapplers came back strong defeating the Oakers in their two other meetings and defeated the 1970 City Champs Catholic High in the three times they met.

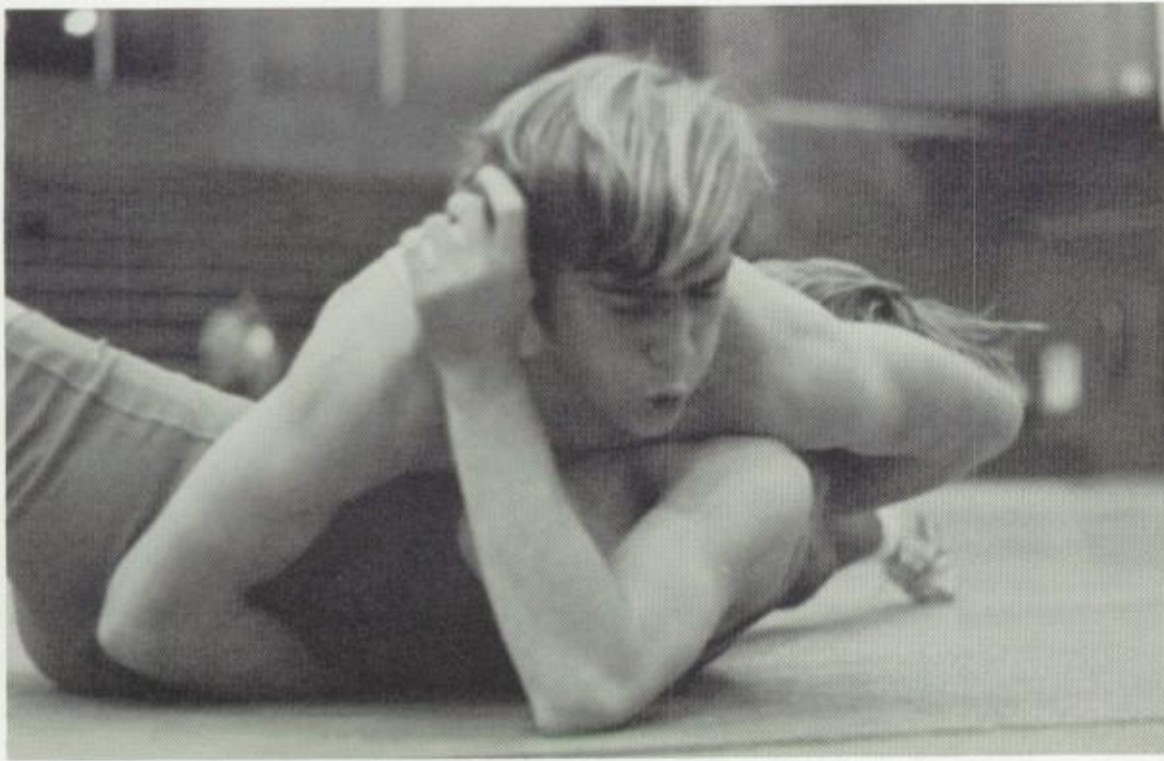

Wrestling seems to be a coming sport here at Lee.

1970-71 City Champions

The Rebels were one of the nine teams entered in Baton Rouge's second annual wrestling meet. The Lee wrestlers took a commanding lead in the first round of the tournament and continued their winning ways throughout the two day competition. Out of the 12 weight classes Lee had 7 individual winners, 2 seconds, 2 thirds, and 1 fourth. Team scoring went: Lee 146; Catholic (last years city champs) 87; Glen Oaks 83. The competition was very keen with a few upsets being recorded. Coach Bofinger feels that experience (23 dual meets), hard work, and the goal to be No. 1 won the city championship for the Rebels.

Ric Kracht, winner from last year, defeated Juan Quiett of G. O. in the 185 lb. class. Quiett had beaten Ric in their two regular season encounters. Ric also won the state championship.

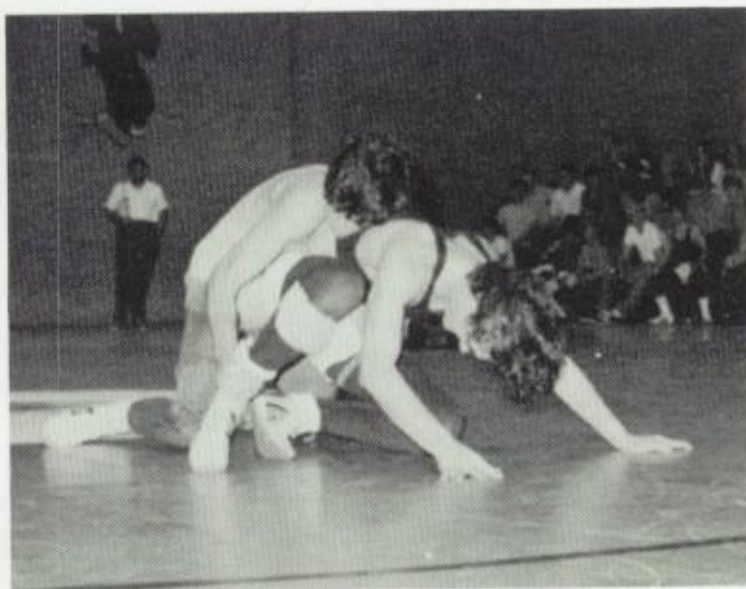

Ted Nissing beat defending city champ Peter Bonano 5-2 in the finals. Nissing became the new 126 lb. class champ. Ted came in third in the state.

Gene Williams, a returning city champ, defeated Alan Gentiles in the 105 lb. class by a score of 10-6 in overtime.

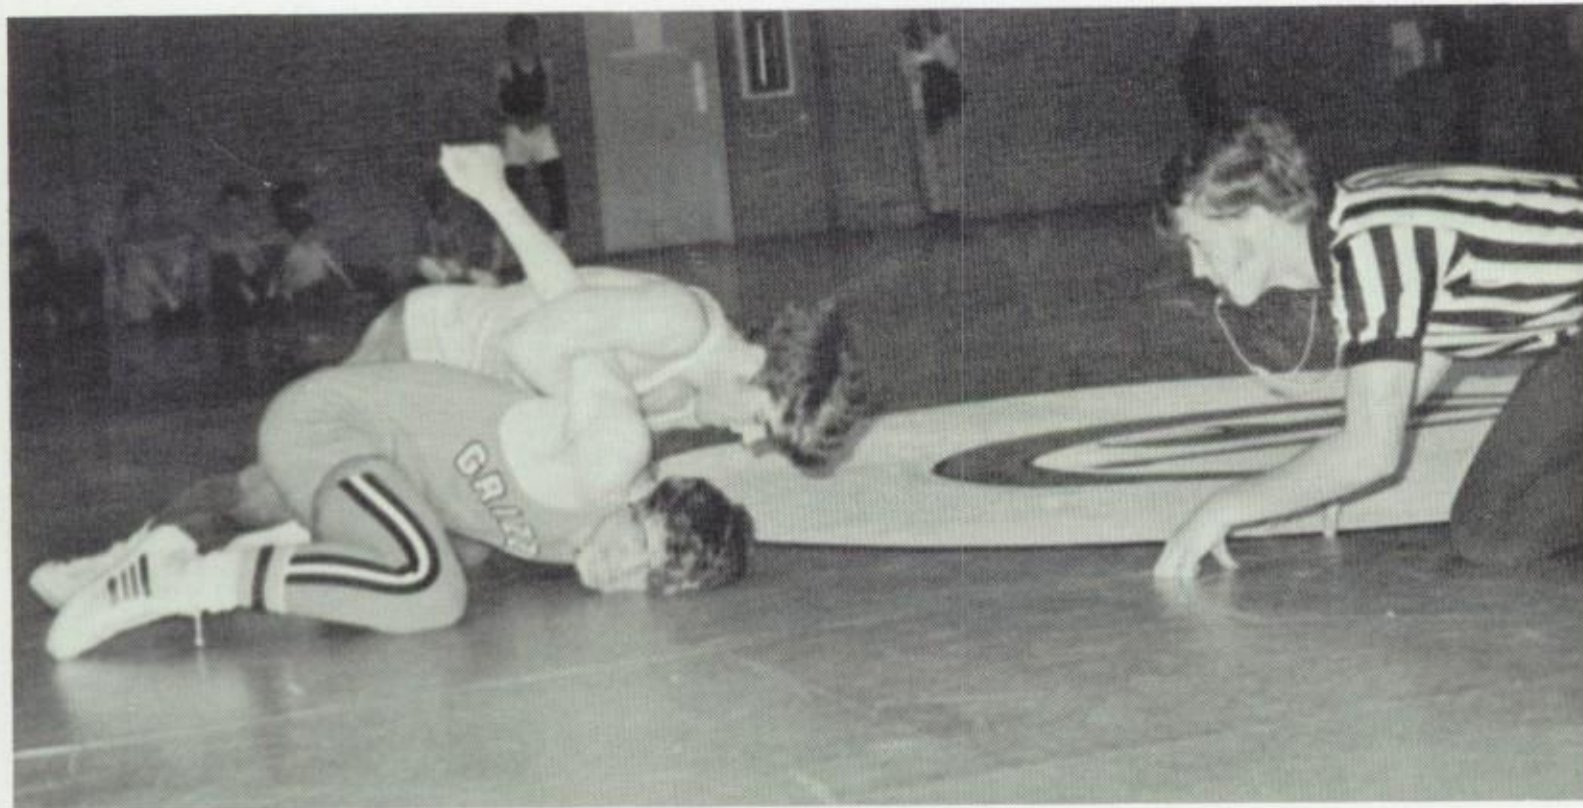

Danny Williams won the 132 lb. city title by defeating Eddie Crews of B.R.H.S., 4-2.

Marion Murphy won in his weight class of 167 lbs. by defeating teammate Gene Dry.

Gene placed third in the state meet while Danny and Marion each copped fourth.

Caye Ribas, in his first year of wrestling, won the 145 lb. class by defeating David Walker of G.O. 6-3.

Beau McInnis successfully defended his city title from last year and beat Catholic's Pat Kelly, 9-2. Beau won the state championship too.

Track and Field

Track has always been a big sport at Lee High and this year was no different.

Like Wrestling it is more an individual contest between athletes. One man pits his skill against another's in contests that are identical to those held hundreds of years ago in the Greek Olympics. Some Rebel fieldmen are seen here doing their thing. Left: Ric Kracht; Below left: Lynn Ducote; Below right: Joe Bartus; Right: Ed Flake.

This year was quite a good one for our baseball team. Coach Stringfield, in his second year as baseball coach, had an experienced squad of ball players to work with. Pat Mooock, Mike Pickett, Jimmy Fairchild, etc. were well seasoned Seniors who made up the core of the team. A talented group of last year's J.V.'s joined the varsity team to add a lot of strength.

Golf Team

This years golf team will be trying to defend its District 4AAAA and Regional Championship as well as to match its regular season record of last year. Despite the loss of Robert Shaw, the team is expected to do very well with three returning lettermen. Also back after playing last year are David Briggs and Todd "Whitey" Larson.

Lettermen: Louis Pellerin, Paul Castro, Al Watts.

Girls' P.E.

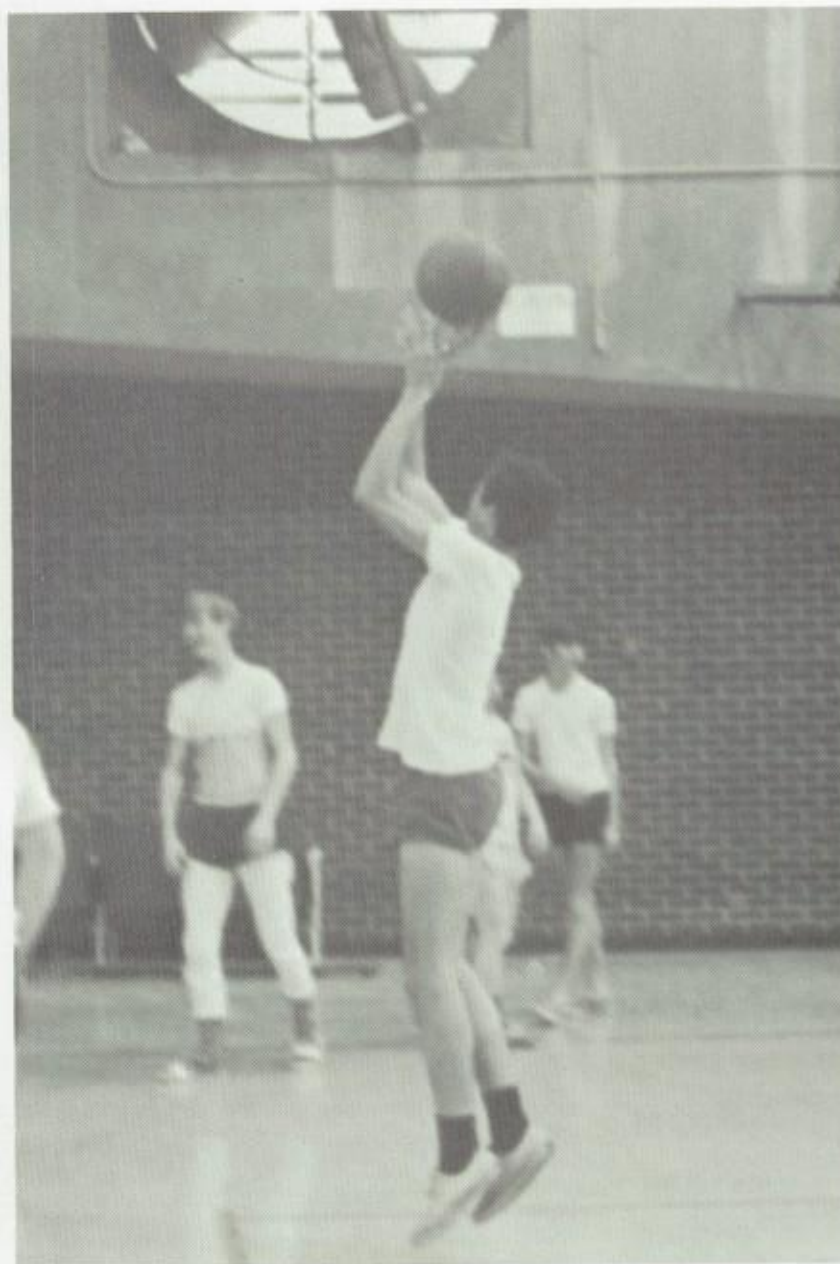

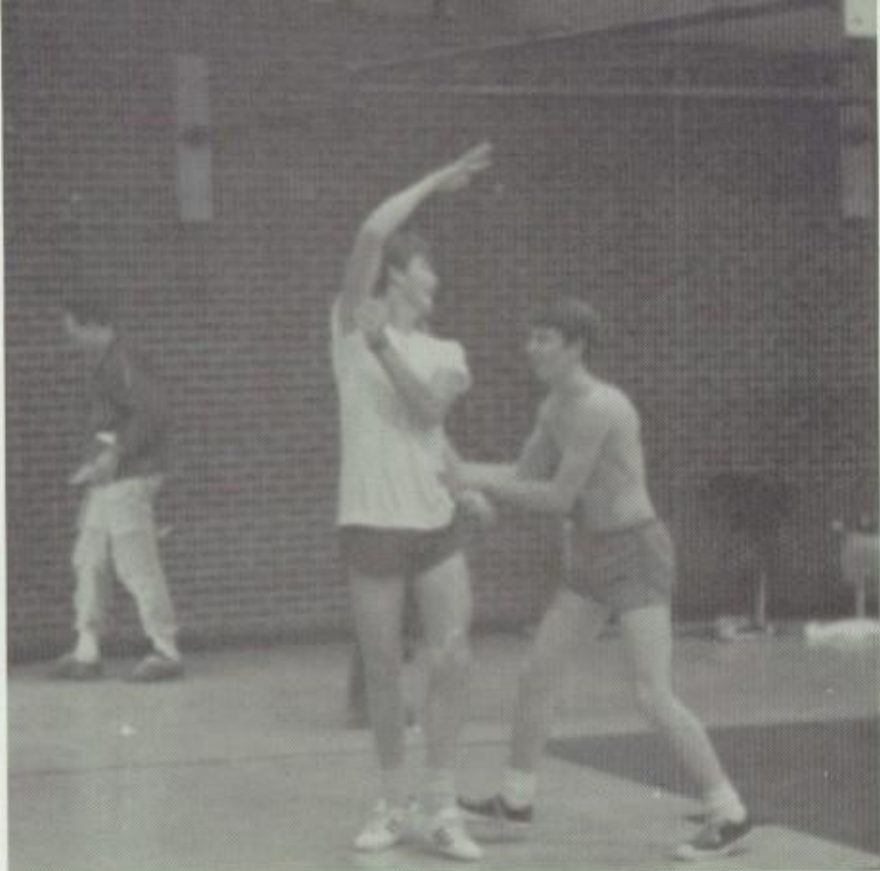

Girls participated in a number of interesting and varied activities in P.E. this year. One unusual sport indulged in this year was bowling, to which an entire six weeks was devoted. An actual trip to a bowling alley climaxed many grueling hours of practice. Another interesting aspect of the girl's athletic hour was a well organized seminar on drug abuse which our cagey Lee High females found highly entertaining as well as educational.

Volleyball, badminton, and the well-loved floor exercises were carried on as usual. Many ecstatic moments came to our beautiful little Rebels during such activities.

Boy's P.E.

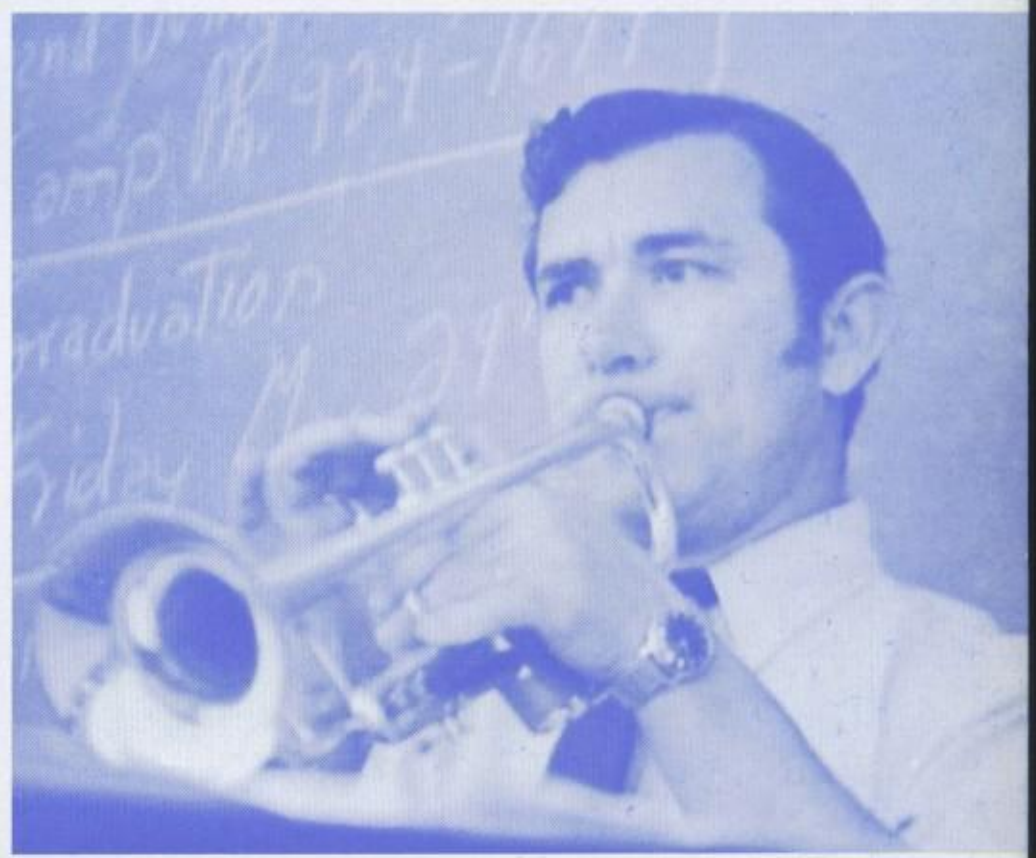

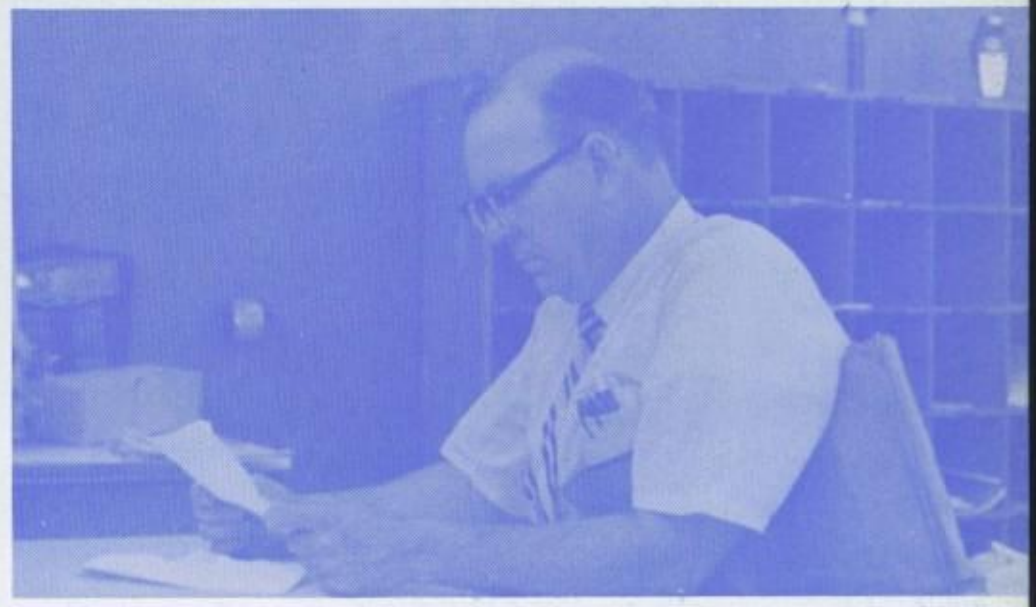

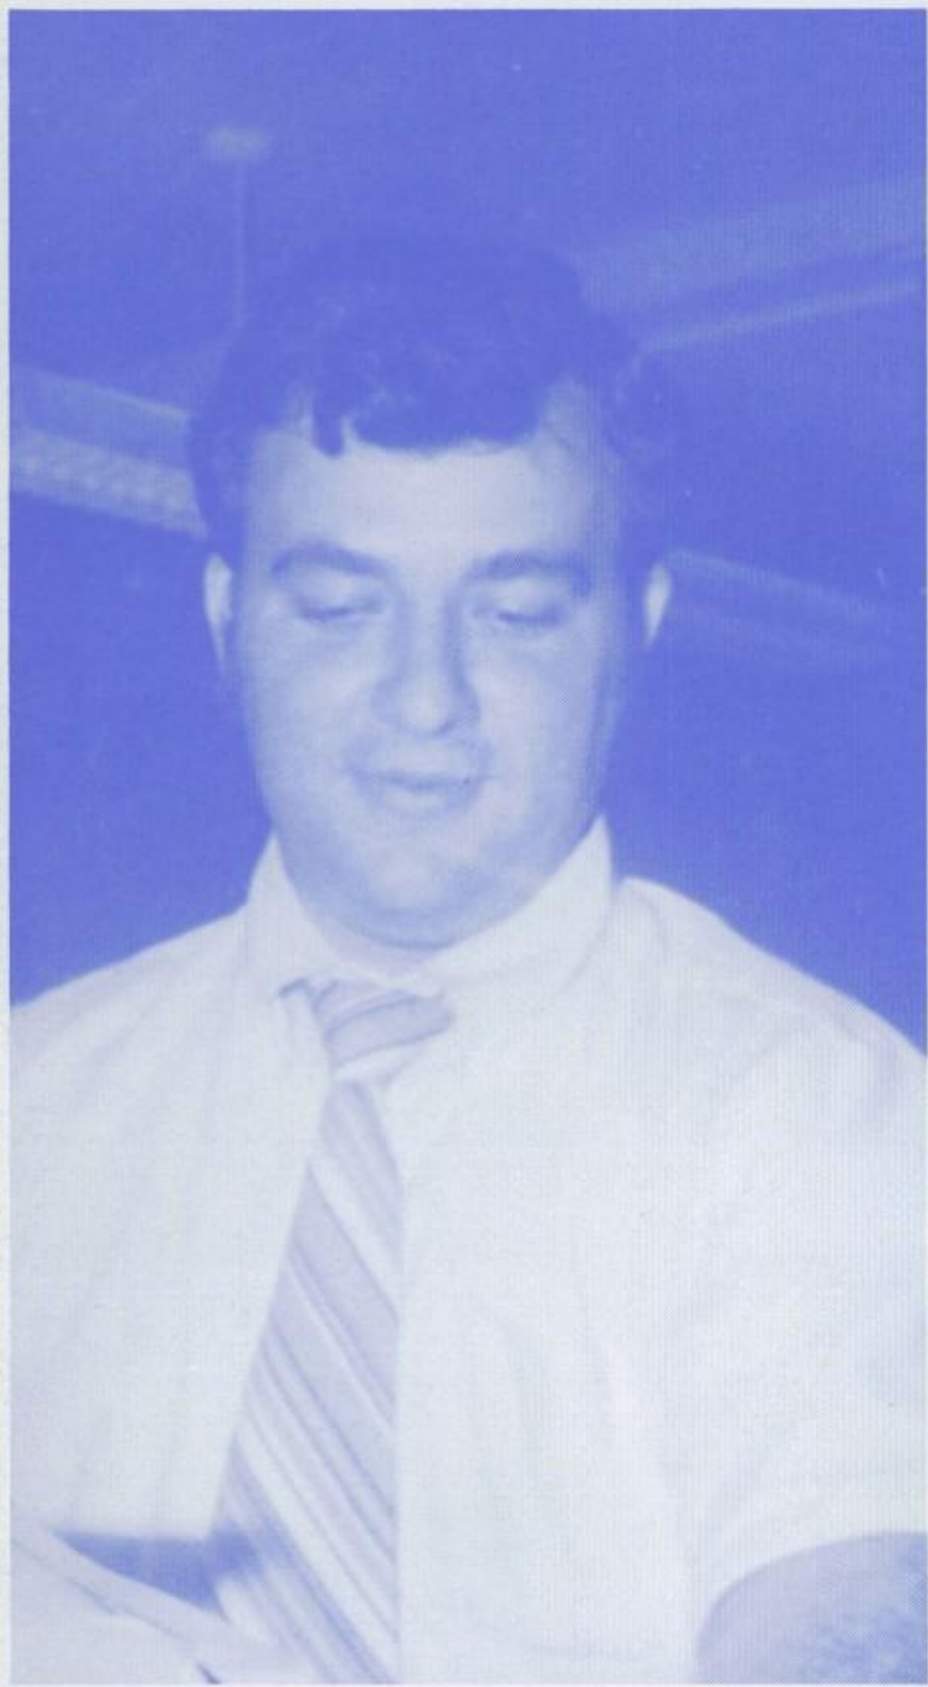

Coaches Bofinger, Bond, Keaton, and Struppeck led the school's boys through another fine competitive year of Physical Education. Much of the time was spent on football and basketball, but the boys learned and played speedball, volleyball, and softball. Also three weeks were spent in an extensive study on drug abuse.

Homecoming Court 1970

Members of the 1970 Homecoming court are Cynthia Nesbit, Mary Naquin, Lydia Spann, Gina Roy, Becky Bolton (Queen), Rene Bajon, Georgia Brown, Mona McGehee, Penny Kracht.

Homecoming—the first real celebration of the school year and anticipated by all. But to those girls in the court it will remain a very outstanding memory of their high school days.

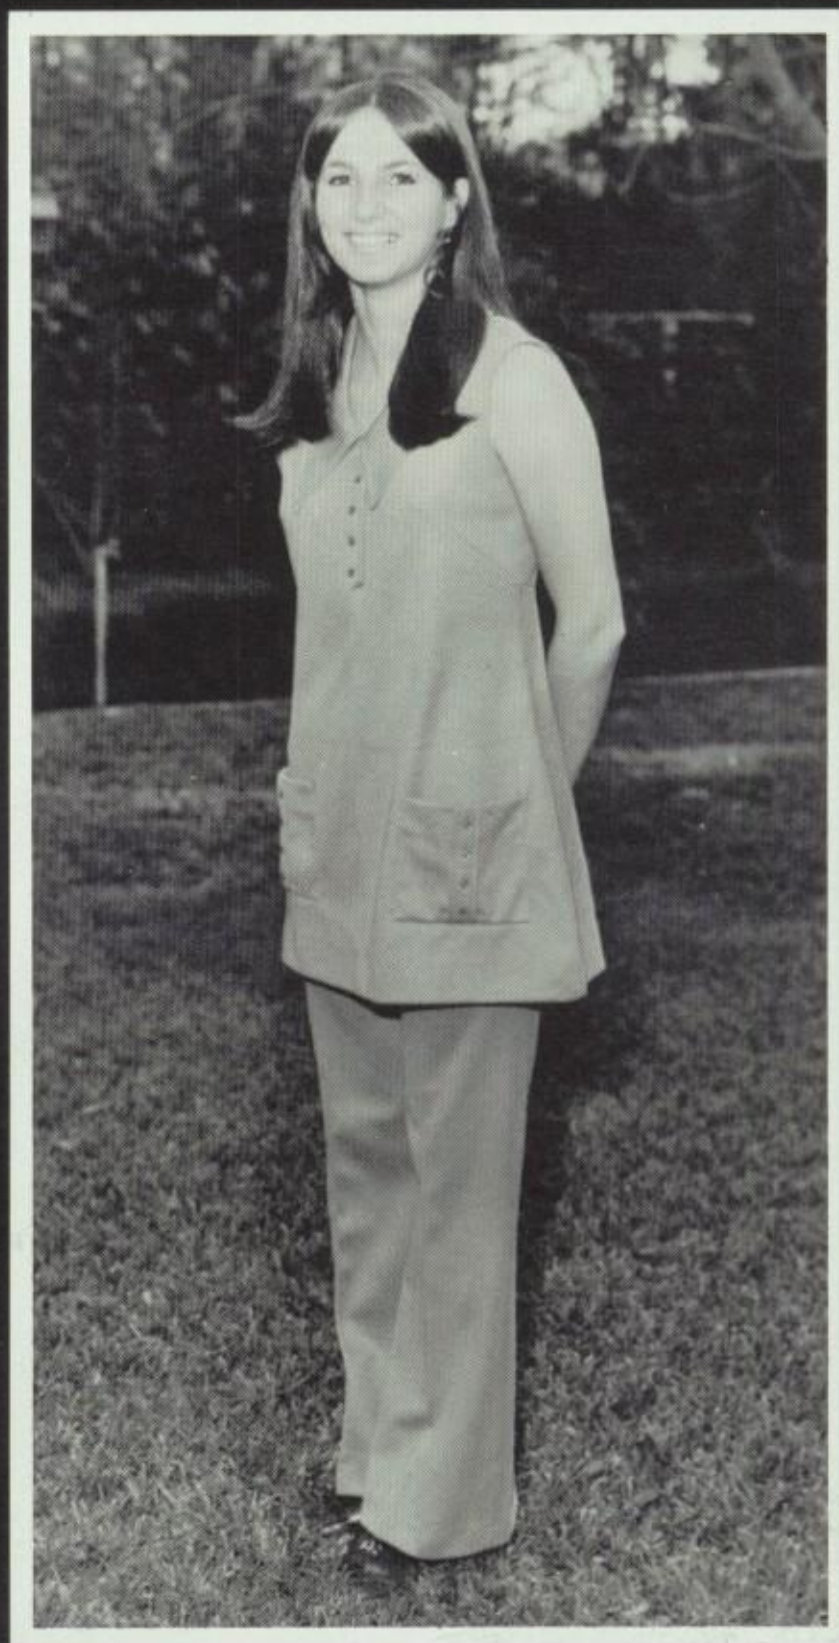

The court, by tradition, was chosen by the football players and presented to the student body at the pep rally preceding the Tara game. Escorted by their fathers, the court was again presented during the halftime show.

Last year's queen, Debby Evans returned to crown Becky Bolton and present her with a dozen red roses.

A time of joy, tension, excitement and pleasure to all who participated—Homecoming 1970.

The Littlest Angel

This year although we did not have a Christmas Dance, the Student Government carried out the tradition of electing Miss Merry Christmas and her court. They were presented at the Christmas assembly, escorted by presidents of their respective classes, and Miss Merry Christmas was escorted by Mr. Murphree. At the assembly the student body was entertained by the Student Government production of The Littlest Angel and The Christmas Story. The Rebeliers and Stage Band provided entertainment while the Christmas Court received presents for needy children from each Homeroom Representative.

Mrs. Loupe, student government sponsor.

Student Government involves many people at Lee. There are 52 homerooms this year, and each one is represented by a representative and an alternate. Representatives sell football and basketball pep ribbons, locker shelves, give Monday morning devotionals, supervise the lunch line, and do anything necessary to keep open communication between the Student Government, the student body, and the faculty.

Every year the Student Government sponsors the Homecoming Dance which is always a big success.

For a Thanksgiving Project each homeroom contributes food, which is collected and given to seven families for a Thanksgiving dinner.

Student Government also presents the annual Christmas program. The Student Government selects a Miss Merry Christmas and her court, who are presented at the program. Each homeroom, having bought toys for needy children, places them under the Christmas tree at the program.

Student Government also helps to sponsor the Cotillion Ball each year.

In the spring, the Student Government initiates the Spring Project. Each homeroom works to beautify the outside area of the school. Student Government also participates in an exchange program between the Student Councils in the area.

The Superintendent's Conference Committee is a group of people who give the opinion of Lee High students on vital issues of the school system. Every two weeks these fortunate four meet along with representatives of each grade of each high school in the parish and the Superintendent of public schools. Although no authority is granted, each opinion is recorded and the consensus opinion is presented to the school board.

The East Baton Rouge Parish Youth Council, which is in its fourth year of existence, is sponsored by the Family Court. The objects of the Council are to promote better relations and cooperation between adults and parents, to represent the youth of the parish to the government, and to consider all matters pertaining to the youth of the parish.

The Youth Council is composed of a board of officers and representatives from each school in the parish. There are to be two representatives elected from each grade in every school to serve on the Youth Council.

Proposed projects this year for the Youth Council include a Pollution Fair, President's Banquet, and revision of our handbooks. This spring the Youth Council is planning to work closely with the Mayor's Council on Youth Opportunity to plan summer programs and jobs for the Youth of our community.

The Lee High Beta Club is an affiliate of the National Beta Club. Members are selected on a basis of leadership, scholarship, and character. One of the major projects of the Beta Club is the Fairest Fifty Beauty Pageant. From this contest, a queen and four runners-up are selected. This year, The Beta Club Talent Show, a new project, was successfully held in October. The Beta members end each year with a picnic and the election of the new officers. Sponsor for the club is Mrs. Blanche Sandefer.

The Key Club is a service organization of young men, to help the community. The new members are appointed by the teachers and approved by the members of the club. The Lee High Key Club has been very busy this year with many projects. Our money making projects of the year were the selling of football programs at all home games and the selling of Fruit Cakes for our sponsor club, the Metropolitan Kiwanis. Other projects of the year were moving books at the beginning of the year, painting the teachers walk along C building, and painting the school sign in front of the school. The club also visits a different church each month in their support of churches. The high point of the year for all Key Clubbers is the La.-Miss.-Tenn. Convention held once a year. This year the convention was held in Memphis, Tenn. Our sponsor is Mr. Hanley.

The National Honor Society is an organization of honor students. Only Seniors and Juniors can belong because members are chosen on the basis of their scholastic achievements over five semesters. This is an honorary club and doesn't participate in many activities besides Dixie Day and contributing to school projects. An initiation is held each year during school and new members are inducted after an impressive ceremony.

The Mu Alpha Theta is an honor club for math students. Students are invited to join if they have completed five semesters in math with a B average. This year Mu Alpha Theta sponsored a tutoring service for weaker math students. There is also a Mu Alpha Theta convention held in New Orleans each year in which local clubs may participate.

Candy Strippers do many odd jobs that no one else has the time to do. They do everything from changing beds to reading to the elderly. These girls reap the rewards of self-satisfaction from helping others.

The office aides help Mrs. Fort by answering telephones, delivering memos, and absentee lists, and doing other jobs in the office. Aides work one hour each day and are of great help to the office staff.

Each month the Lee High Cross had two projects of its own and participates in the Council projects. Some of the different projects this year were a party for the underprivileged, a kite party at the deaf school, a party for L.S.U. international students, a trip to the Veteran's Hospital, parties for the Fountain Lodge nursing home, a pinata party for the deaf school, stuffing envelopes, a dance party for the retarded, trip to Jackson to visit the mental patients, Easter egg hunts for the blind and deaf schools, a visit to the pediatrics ward of the Baton Rouge General and an end of the year banquet in which awards were given to hardest worker, most influential, etc.

"To involve members in developing leadership, brotherhood, equality, and service, while increasing an awareness of oneself and the world." This, the Hi-Y Purpose, is carried out in projects done by the club, a sports program among clubs, and a culmination of the year's activities with the Youth in Legislature. The Youth in Legislative not only gives the member a chance to practice politics, but also to lead and work with others.

The Tri-Hi-Y, a new club at Lee this year, is a girls club working in conjunction with the Hi-Y. The girls sold doughnut to raise money for the treasury. As service projects the Tri-Hi-Y went Christmas caroling at Old Folks Homes and sent valentines to the boys in Viet Nam. At the end of the year they attended the Youth Legislature.

Tri-Hi-Y members participate in organized sports.

Tommy Jo Mix, a member of F.T.A. substitutes for Mr. Powers.

The Lee High Chapter of the F.T.A. creates interest in the teaching profession and acts as a service organization.

Various types of programs on education are presented at chapter, district, and state meetings.

Club members make name tags for the faculty to be worn on the first day of school. Members also serve as guides on Parent's night. Teacher Appreciation Week, sponsored by the Future Teachers, is held each year just before Thanksgiving. At Christmas time, club members ring bells for the Volunteers of America and make Christmas stockings for the faculty. As a joint project the FTA and FHA gave the administration and faculty a Christmas party. In February the FTA sponsors Twirp Week climaxed by the Twirp Dance. District Workshop is held in the spring. The State Convention at the Prince Murat Inn in late March is a busy, informative occasion for FTA members.

The main purpose of the Debate Club is to engage in extra-curricular debates with students from other schools. The year began with several members attending a discussion Workshop in Lafayette in October.

A large contingent of over 30 students attended a speech festival at U.S.L. in early December. Students in interpretation, acting, oratory and extemporaneous speaking accompanied the debaters on this two day trip. District Rally in Hammond was held at the start of the second semester, followed by State Rally in March. Several local debates with Plaquemine and Baton Rouge High brought spirited contests.

The end.

Before the Thanksgiving holidays the club members sold Christmas items to help finance an award to be given at the end of the year to an outstanding French student. This Award is a tour in Europe.

During the Christmas holidays the club went to different houses to carol in French. In April they also went to the French-speaking part of Louisiana to learn more about the culture of our French Heritage. It was a very successful year for the French Club.

The French National Honor Society is an honor club with membership open to French students with a 3.4 average. The associate members are students who have taken French and maintained this average, but are no longer taking it.

The Lee High Accounting Club provides deep insight and broad applications of knowledge which serve as connecting links between the student apprentice and the professional accountant.

The F.M.L.A., going into its third year, has many activities planned to further its members' musical experience and to entertain others. During the summer its activities are extended through the Governor's Honor Band and Choir.

The Taxidermy Club is an organization of adventurous outdoorsmen who are interested in preserving the most beautiful facet of nature—life. The Taxidermy Club's annual wildlife sales have made it one of the wealthiest clubs at Lee, and it uses its vast treasures solely for the pursuit of its outdoor activities.

Confederettes 1970-71

Once there was a very spirited Confederate who marched, sold doughnuts, cheered, and generally supported Lee High with the rest of the Boosters. But sometimes, in the midst of all the many spirit-raising projects, she wondered, "Just what good do Confederettes do Lee High?"

So she watched other Confederate at the games and saw that no matter what the score, the Boosters were always ready to give one more cheer for the Rebels. She watched other Confederate paint and march, and work for charity when they might rather be going out, watching television, or just sleeping.

What was most noticeable, she found, was that she and all the Confederate were almost always laughing and having fun, she also found that all of the things they did were a form of service. Through service, Confederate learn to give of themselves; by giving of themselves, they find meaning in their own lives. No matter what tangible benefits Lee High receives from its Confederate, it is the girls themselves that profit from the experience of giving; and so, indirectly, the school profits, too.

"The next thing most like living one's life over again
Seems to be a recollection of that life,
And to make that recollection as durable as possible
By putting it down in writing."

"Now this is not the end.
It is not even the beginning of the end.
But it is, perhaps, the end of the beginning."

To Jody,
and may you and Dan marry large & many wishes to family. Best all future success in Shorthorn '70-71"

Judy,

There's a lot I could say, but I won't.
Your friendship meant more to me than you'll ever really know. I know a lot has happened, and even though we didn't see eye to eye, there's a lot more that was in the problem than I could say.
But anyway, I still think of you as a great friend no matter what you think. Having your friendship meant a lot of hurt to me, and I know to you. I think we should think of all the fantastic times we shared, how close we once were. The less we shed both happy and sad. Well, I'll go now. Keep Dan forever. I know you love him as much as I love Buster. Maybe we can have some good times next year. I know we'll have a ball. Yea Semors '72." Bye now, Germaine

P.S. Remember our talks. I miss all your family too.

Snudy Baw!
Boy has time
